Fluid live wallpaper for pc

Multiple watches, logos and UI resizing This program is AMAZING. I've always wanted gl fluid web as a wallpaper. The only things I'd like to add are support for various watches and logos in the 3 available wallpaper programs. It would also be useful to be able to resize the menu button (the three lines) as well as the menu settings. Things get a little weird with my second monitor which is vertical and the menu is almost too small to read. These programs are worth more than money... 5 Dec @ 11:05pm General Discussions Our latest Fluid Engine project features a beautiful fluid simulation that responds to your mouse. In options, you can change many parameters that change the appearance and behavior of the fluid. We've prepared some settings ready for you, but you can also add your own (presets) to quickly change them. By default, for 3DM you can also add your own text, logos or watch. Interactive simulation - Fluid that reacts to mouse movement and click. Ready presets - some presets made by us, but you can add your own. Many editing options - you can change many parameters. Clock - adjust the watch to the screen. Own text - add your own text to the wallpaper. Own logo - add your own logo (. Png.JPG)Autorun - Starts with Windows 10. Automatic and Manual Pause Mode - will pause the wallpaper when you need 100% power for your games. It will detect games in full screen. Optimization - reduced equipment requirements. Optimized code built for mobile devices. Multi-Language - the menu with many languages. The project will be developed, so there will probably be more options soon. Support: We are a small team creating interactive 3D wallpapers for Windows 10. We try to make each project unique by introducing something new on the screen. Every support is valuable to us. Constructive comments allow us to create even better projects. Is there a problem?
